

Disclaimer

I, the undersigned, _____ confirm that I have voluntarily participated in the debriefing session at Haltepunkt with the following debriefers, Armie Friesen and Judith Finkbeiner, and any other debriefers/coaches'/ therapists who are certified debriefer, Armie Friesen (according to Le Rucher) and Judith Finkbeiner, Christian psychologist (IGNIS).

I understand that this debriefing is a structured process designed to help me explore, reflect on, and understand the impact of my experiences personally, spiritually, and in my relationships.

I acknowledge that reflecting on these experiences and their impact may be emotionally painful and could potentially lead to changes in my life, beliefs, and behavior. I understand that debriefing is not counseling or therapy. The role of the debriefer is to guide me through the debriefing process and to help me reflect on my experiences.

Any changes, decisions, or actions resulting from this debriefing are solely my choice and responsibility. They are not the responsibility of the debriefers or their umbrella organization, Lebenswerk, and I assume full responsibility for the outcome.

I expressly release Armie Friesen and Judith Finkbeiner, their umbrella organization Lebenswerk, as well as any other individuals working with or on their behalf, from all liability, losses, damage, claims, actions, or judgments of any kind that may arise in connection with the debriefing I have received or will receive.

Confidentiality

The information shared with us will be treated confidentially, unless it becomes clear that there is a risk of self-harm, harm to others, or a case of child endangerment or abuse. In such cases, confidentiality will be lifted, and the person being debriefed will be informed.

To support you as best as possible during this time of debriefing, Judith and Armie may share important information for the purposes of prayer and mutual exchange. However, this information will not be passed on any further.

Data Protection

I understand that the debriefing sessions will be treated confidentially and that my debriefer is committed to not disclosing the content of the conversations or using the data for any other purpose. My data will be shared with the umbrella organization Lebenswerk Paderborn e.V. for the purpose of issuing invoices and sending them to the client or their organization.
